Presidents' Messages

Dear Alumnus,

If you have followed the happenings on campus at College of the Ozarks, you know that everything here is a constant work-in-progress with new programs and buildings always on the horizon. The beautiful new Keeter Character Center is truly an asset for the campus. Ground was broken at homecoming for McKibben Hall, and plans for the school of nursing are being formulated. The Alumni Center will be occupied soon!

Beginning a new year is always a time of reflection; as a retired educator, I am always interested in what lies ahead in education. The student of today is a "different" student than we were because of the social and economic factors which face today's students. There seems to be a general perception that American education is in a state of decline. I can't agree with that, because research has given us great insight into how students learn—about organizing, delivering, and evaluating instruction. I believe that we are educating students better than ever. However, I do believe that in the United States we send conflicting messages to our brightest students.

Our best students are sometimes called "nerds," while in other industrialized nations scholarship is admired. In our society, athletes are revered; they receive accolades and press coverage. Often coaches make more money than college presidents in a society where success is equated with the amount of money earned. Sports are enjoyed by millions of Americans, and rightly so; but percentage-wise not many people make their living playing sports.

College of the Ozarks continues to have outstanding teams in many sports and has enjoyed much success. Even so, our athletes are still expected to work the same number of hours as other students and are held to the same high standards in regard to academics and other areas. Thankfully, winning has not become the all-consuming goal of College of the Ozarks. Coaches aren't dismissed if they do not have a winning season. We applaud our Board of Trustees along with Dr. Davis for supporting this philosophy.

Thanks to all of you who continue to support our alumni project—the restoration of Williams Memorial Chapel—with your financial resources and your prayers. The plans for summer are to refinish the pews, which were made in our own woodworking shop, and clean the interior stone. We still need your help to accomplish this. Please help if you can. Any gift, large or small, will be appreciated.

Sincerely,

Frieda Hornback
Alumni Association President

ON THE COVER: At the 2004 homecoming banquet, C of O presented the alumni meritorious awards to (clockwise): Dr. Roy Johnson '62 JC, Distinguished Service to College of the Ozarks; Dr. John Friesen '89, Outstanding Young Alumni; Earl Woodard '38, Distinguished Alumni Award; Raymond Winsky '42, Distinguished Community Service. To nominate an alumnus, complete and mail the award nomination form on page 14.

Dear Alumnus,

The holiday break was a much-needed time of refreshment for students, after having completed the fall semester, and the Spring Semester is now underway. Students, new and returning, are finally getting settled in and adjusted to the changes brought by the new semester.

Student Senate is as busy as ever. We started the first week of classes working our Student Senate Book Sale and Welcome Week. The book sale allows students a means to buy and sell their books at their own prices. It is like a huge garage sale for bargain books! Student Senate provided the popular Welcome Week activities—bowling, movie, and dance nights, which all students can participate in free of charge. I can't say enough about how hard the student senators work to make these events possible. We have a wonderful group of senators, with hearts focused on serving their fellow students. The other activities that Senate will coordinate this semester are the monthly coffee houses, open houses in the residence halls, and Spring Formal.

As always, we at College of the Ozarks look forward to meeting you when you come back to visit. God bless you throughout this New Year!

Sincerely,

Jordan Couturier
Student Body President

Dear Alumnus,

Every year the College campus improves through the hard work of students who put much care into what they do. This can be seen throughout the campus in detail like the carefully-crafted wood floors of The Keeter Center and the magnificently-laid limestone blocks of Williams Memorial Chapel.

Over many years, leaders like W. R. Dobyms, M. Graham Clark, and R. M. Good, along with thousands of students like you, dedicated time and heart into making College of the Ozarks the highly-regarded institution it is today.

As we look to the future at College of the Ozarks, we do so in the belief that students who continue to come will have their lives changed. Having started my journey in a work school constantly reminds me of the distance I have come, but more importantly the future of students following a similar path at this remarkable school.

My own roots go back to a school similar to this one. A school such as Hard Work U provided the "gates of opportunity" for my life and subsequent career. The relationship between students who attend C of O and the campus itself is reciprocal. While here, students receive an education of the head, heart, and hands. In return, the College continues to grow, improve, and develop its own character.

Looking back at the past year with the opening of The Keeter Center, the renovation of the old Friendship House into the new

Jerry C. Davis

Alumni Center in high gear, and the groundbreaking for McKibben Hall, one can see how busy and productive it was. This year will see even more improvement to the campus with the completion of the Alumni Center projected for the end of April.

Truly, the campus is a living testament to the history and philosophy of Hard Work U. The New Year holds even greater promise. I wish you happiness and fulfillment throughout the year to come.

Sincerely,
Jerry C. Davis
President

Dear Alumnus,

Well, it's the beginning of a new year and a new semester at College of the Ozarks. The fall semester was a successful semester of service to the College for SAA, with the highlight being Homecoming. SAA members put together a beautiful banner that resembled a quilt of memories for the theme, "Feels Like Home." Members also assisted alumni with the Homecoming Memorial Service and at the banquet on Saturday evening.

In addition to Homecoming, SAA was busy with several other activities during the past semester. We participated in the National Make-A-Difference Day by collecting 40 new books to donate to the local Boys and Girls Club. Also, members participated in the campus blood drive for the American Red Cross and rang the bells for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season. SAA, along with housing, held our annual Dollar Drive for the Salvation Army and collected a total of $398.88, which brought our total for the past four years to almost $2,000.

Lindsey Boyer

During our November meeting, members put together boxes for Operation Christmas Child, a program of Franklin Graham's Samaritan's Purse ministry. The program collects and sends shoeboxes full of Christmas presents to needy children all over the world. This year SAA members and volunteers put together 66 boxes, which brought our five-year total up to 604 boxes. What a great way to end the semester!

SAA has several activities planned for the spring semester. We started by welcoming the new students at the Newcomer Catwalk and Bash. Our Phonathon is scheduled for February 28-March 3. SAA members will be contacting alumni to ask for pledges to the Alumni Scholarship Endowment Fund. Over $100,000 has been raised in the past five years because of the generosity of our alumni! We hope we can count on you to support this wonderful project again this year. Immediately following the Phonathon, we will be helping with the NAIA tournament by operating the souvenir stand and serving as team hosts for the basketball teams. Finally, we will top off the semester by honoring our seniors at the Graduating Senior Reception.

As the new SAA president, I'm looking forward to helping SAA accomplish great things throughout 2005.

Sincerely,
Lindsey Boyer
SAA President

Developing the Giving Habit

If you haven't been back to our alma mater lately, you're in for a big surprise. Over the past few years, several new buildings have been constructed or renovated. These are some "good times" for the College, and the new Keeter Center is a perfect example of how blessed the College has been. I encourage you to make a trip back to Point Lookout this year; I believe you will be impressed with the restoration of the Williams Memorial Chapel, made possible by your support. The old Thompson Dining Hall is once again a place for students to gather, as it has been renovated and is now the Leonard Gittinger Campus Ministries Center. And, just next door is our new music facility, the Edith Gittinger Music Center, a state-of-the-art facility constructed around the old Jordan Music Building. We are especially excited that our new Alumni Center will be completed soon; at

Rodney Arnold '91

Homecoming, you will be able to enjoy its new surroundings in the former Friendship House building.

As you may know, The Keeter Center consists of a new hotel, restaurant, and conference center. This splendid facility has been open for just a few short months and has already welcomed 50,000 visitors. As the Friendship House was once a fine-dining establishment, so now is The Keeter Center. It is truly serving one of the College's main purposes...attracting the next generation of supporters and donors to the campus to discover the uniqueness of Hard Work U.

Once again, I encourage you to come back and visit the campus, and have lunch or dinner at the Doby's Dining Room; perhaps you may be interested in staying in one of the beautiful suites at The Keeter Center. You will be impressed with the accommodations and be glad you stayed on campus for a few nights, just like the "good old days." Should you have family or friends coming to the area, please encourage them to visit as well.

As College of the Ozarks prepares for its centennial celebration, making a trip back to campus will no doubt impress upon you how far our alma mater has come. Many donors from across the country have made this unique educational opportunity possible; I hope that on your journey back to Point Lookout, you are inspired to give something back for the next generation of students. The original mission of our alma mater remains true today. It takes support from individuals, companies, foundations, churches, civic groups, and alums to keep The Gates of Opportunity open wide.

Alumni in the News

Julie Harkins '98 has been promoted to Vice President of Marketing of Wendy's of Missouri, Inc. according to Sam Hamra, Chairman and CEO of Hamra Enterprises.

She is responsible for coordination of local and national advertising, organization and development of the Adoption Series "For your Life," and all marketing, advertising, public relations and communications of Wendy's of Missouri, Inc.

Julie joined Wendy's of Missouri, Inc. in April 2001 as Marketing Director. Prior to her association with Wendy's, she served as Marketing Sales Promotion Coordinator for KY3.

Sam Hamra said he is "pleased to have someone who is as qualified as Julie Harkins handling the marketing for Wendy's of Missouri. She has done an outstanding job and we are blessed to promote her to the position of Vice President of Marketing for our company."

Hamra Enterprises' companies include Wendy's of Missouri, Inc., with 22 Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburger Restaurants in Missouri; Chicago Bread, L.L.C., with 24 Panera Bread Bakery-Cafés in the greater Chicago area; and Boston Bread, L.L.C. with 12 Panera bread Bakery-Cafés in the greater Boston area. In addition, Hamra Enterprises owns Baymont Inn and Suites hotels, one in Springfield, Missouri, and one in Lewisville, Texas. The company also has commercial development and other real estate holdings throughout Missouri.

Julie has a bachelor's degree in Mass Communications Public Relations.

Multi-Systems Inc. (MSI), the hospitality industry's leading provider of fully integrated property-management and marketing systems, has promoted former Director of Account Management and Training Tim Tiller '01 to the newly created position of Vice President of Customer Success. In his new role, Tiller will integrate and lead the company's Customer Care, Training and Account Management teams.

A ten-year lodging-industry veteran, Tiller joined MSI as a training specialist in 1998; previous to that he worked for John Q. Hammons Hotels, the highly respected hotel-management company (and a current MSI client) based in Springfield, MO.

"We are very proud and pleased to announce Tim's promotion," said Rick Munson, MSI's Chief Executive Officer. "As Director of Account Management and Training, he was instrumental in integrating our Account Management and Training teams, and thus improving service to our customers. Tim will bring the same leadership skills to bear on this new position, which will be key to expanding and refining our client services even more."

Tiller, 34, said his top priority is to tie together all of MSI's customer-related teams, with the objective of providing clients with the assistance they need to be as successful as they can be.

"We want to send a message that we are going to do more than just service our customers," Tiller said. "Our goal is to be proactive in providing all the tools our customers need to ensure their success in a marketplace that's more competitive than it has ever been. I'm looking forward to leading the effort to integrate our Account Management, Training and Customer Care teams, and to seeing our customers benefit from our efforts."

Tiller, a native of St. Charles, MO, graduated with a degree in psychology, and in August 2004, received a Master's Degree in Social Work from Arizona State University in Tempe. He and his wife, Dawn, have a son, Ryan, and a daughter, Jordan.

Chapter News

The Central California Alumni Chapter met in Paso Robles at the Sizzler Restaurant on December 4. Present were President Gayle Ross Mault, Treasurer Mary Edgar Allred, with guest Carolyn Ramus, her daughter, and secretary Nada Irwin Elliot.

After the meeting was called to order by President Gayle, we recited the Pledge of Allegiance. Nada read a nice letter from Doris Sitzes Hughey who was unable to attend. She told of her recent visit during Homecoming. She was very impressed with the new motel and wrote in detail of its amenities, as well as the service. She also spoke of the progress of the chapel restoration and the work on the Alumni Center.

Mary read a letter from Helen Youngblood thanking her for the $50 donation in memory of our Vice President Lex Allred, whom we lost this past summer. He is greatly missed.

We again extend the invitation for anyone in the area to join us at our next meeting, which will be the second Saturday of March at noon. We may be contacted for location at the address on record at the Alumni Office.

S of O Alumnus, Douglas Mahnkey '22, Dies at Age 102

Born June 18, 1902, in Swan, MO, Douglas was the first son of Ozark pioneers, Mary Elizabeth and Charles Preston Mahnkey. He passed away at the Forsyth Nursing and Rehab Center on November 2, 2004.

Doug spent his youth in Kirbyville, Mincy, and Hollister, and attended high school in Forsyth and The School of the Ozarks. While still a teenager, he qualified to become a school teacher by attending Southwest Missouri State Teachers College, and taught for several years at Bee Creek School near Kirbyville. In 1928, he married Merie Walker and later had three children.

After completing a correspondence course from La Salle Correspondence School in Chicago, he was the last person to pass the Missouri Bar Exam without attending formal law school. For over 60 years, Doug practiced law throughout the State of Missouri. He was elected County Clerk in Taney County in 1926, in which capacity he served until his election to the Missouri House of Representatives in 1934. He left after one term to serve one term as Taney County Prosecuting Attorney, 1937-1939. In 1945, he returned to the Missouri House, where he served three more terms. After leaving the legislature for the final time, he maintained a private law office in Forsyth and Branson until 1997. One of the highlights of Doug's term in the state legislature was meeting President Truman in Fulton, MO, for the famous Iron Curtain Speech in 1945. In the late 1940s and early 50s, Doug played an instrumental role in moving the town of Old Forsyth from its original location, which became a flood area due to the construction of Bull Shoals Dam, to its present location. In the 1950s, the Mahnkey family built and owned a motel in Forsyth to cater to the growing tourist industry. Doug also served as the City Attorney of Forsyth.

In later years, Doug became a noted local and regional historian. He published two books, "Bright Glowed My Hills," and "Hill and Holler Stories," and wrote extensively about the Ozarks and its native people. His work appeared in the "Ozark Mountaineer" magazine over several decades. He was a renowned storyteller and was known as one of the last "Old Time Storytellers." An avid hunter and fisherman, Doug enjoyed the outdoors and always had a prolific vegetable garden. He spent many hours on the rivers and streams fishing, camping, and floating with his family. A lifelong Cardinals fan, he spent many summers coaching Little League baseball. Douglas is survived by one son, William "Bill" Mahnkey of Forsyth; one daughter, Mary Jo Kirkey and husband Richard of Rogersville; grandchildren William Douglas Mahnkey and wife Meredith of Springfield, Elizabeth Turner '99 and husband Grant '99 of Forsyth, Matthew Kirkey and wife Debbie of Ozark, and Julie Fox of Springfield; great-grandchildren Tyler, Trevor, Christopher, and Margaret.

Doug and his family were honored by the College at the Family Values Convocation featuring former Vice-President Dan Quayle in October 1994, as one of the founding families of the Ozarks.

This year will be the sixth consecutive year that College of the Ozarks has hosted the NAIA Division II Men's Basketball National Tournament. College of the Ozarks hosted the event for the first time in 2000 and drew over 25,000 fans to Keeter Gymnasium for the 31-game, six-day tournament.

College of the Ozarks continues to incorporate the NAIA's Champions of Character program in the national tournament, establishing unique initiatives such as a Champions of Character essay contest for elementary school children. This year's essay theme is "Character in Action." The NAIA's "Champions of Character" initiative focuses on "creating an environment in which every NAIA student-athlete, coach, official and spectator is committed to the true spirit of competition through respect, integrity, responsibility, servant leadership, and sportsmanship."

Dean of Admissions Marci Linson coordinates the essay contest by inviting area fourth, fifth, and sixth-graders to express their thoughts through the essays. Each winner is awarded a $50 savings bond provided by Ozark Mountain Bank.

Another unique feature of the tournament is the hospitality shown by college staff, students, and volunteers. Teams and fans are warmly welcomed to campus and often comment on the kindness expressed by the tournament staff.

The NAIA and College of the Ozarks will continue their successful partnership with a two-year contract extension that will keep the NAIA Championship on campus through 2007. Each year the tournament grows in fan and corporate support from the area. This year's tournament will be held March 9-15, 2005.

Oregon Institute of Technology, the No.16-seed, captured the 2004 title in March by defeating second-seeded Bellevue University (Neb.) 81-72 in the championship game.
