HARD WORK U.*® CONCERT BAND

Directed by Dr. Kevin Powers, Hard Work U.® Concert Band is comprised mainly of College of the Ozarks students who regularly perform in the College of the Ozarks Concert Band throughout the academic year. In addition to the students, a few talented community band members have joined the group to perform in this unforgettable patriotic concert.

THE HUNT FAMILY BAND

Formed in 2004, The Hunt Family Band (HFB) is a product of one family pooling their individual efforts and love of music to create a four-piece Bluegrass band with a fresh, tight sound—building a successful, independent career in the music industry. Each member—Terry, Leanne, Andrew, and Jonathan—plays a vital role (both on and off stage) to make The Hunt Family Band a reality. HFB formed in the Hunt family’s living room with informal jam sessions in the early 2000s. They were soon asked to perform at their church and other small events and venues, which gave them a reason to practice and improve their music. Performing at Byron Berline’s Double Stop Fiddle Shop & Music Hall in Guthrie, Oklahoma, allowed HFB to grow and be encouraged as musicians. HFB’s self-titled first album was released in 2006—the first of six they have released to date. Their most recent album, an all-Gospel recording titled Something Exciting was described by Bluegrass Unlimited Magazine as having “lead vocals of great fervency” and being a “very good and persuasive recording.”

BOXEN

Boxen is an Indie band of siblings who believe in bringing together unique ideas and talents to create something beautiful and worth sharing. Whether collaborating on an original or covering an existing song, Boxen loves to put a fresh perspective on their music and lend to their listeners a creative new sound—something far from mainstream. Boxen draws its name from the fantasy land fabricated from the joint ideas of C.S. Lewis and his brother, Warnie, as children. The two young brothers merged their clever writings, forming a fantastic, imaginary land called Boxen. Truly, the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. Growing up in a Christian family, Boxen got its musical beginnings singing in church, where they continue to provide music in the form of concerts and worship sessions. Based in Branson, Missouri, Boxen has performed at many local and private events including The Mystery Hour in Springfield and the Branson Gala.

AYO VOICES OF GLORY

A truly inspirational group of two brothers and one sister, “America’s Got Talent” top 5 finalists Nadia, Michael, and Avery Cole bring their powerful and moving harmonies to light in their remarkable show, AYO Starring the Voices of Glory. Millions of people have shared in the delight of hearing this amazing group sing some of the most powerful and uplifting songs of our time. In just nine years, they have catapulted into the global spotlight—from their humble beginnings singing bedside to their mother (who was in a coma from a car crash), to gracing some of the world’s most impressive and respected stages.

VISIT PATRIOTS PARK!

Patriots Park, located at the entrance of the College of the Ozarks campus, is home to several memorials that highlight the valor of our country's brave servicemen and women: The Missouri Vietnam Veterans Memorial, The Missouri Gold Star Families Memorial, The Korean War Memorial, and The Global War on Terrorism Memorial. Patriots Park also includes the Greatest Generation Flag Plaza (featuring a bronze statue by artist James Hall), and Veterans Grove (consisting of nearly 150 sugar maple trees that honor Veterans who have traveled with the College as part of the Patriotic Education Travel Program).

Patriots Park, built by College of the Ozarks students and staff, was made possible by the generosity of Johnny Morris and the Bass Pro Shops Legends of Golf at Big Cedar Lodge golf tournament. The College is one of the charitable beneficiaries of the tournament, which has been held in Ridgedale, Missouri, for six years, 2014-2019.
