Missions Trips

This Spring Break, students at College of the Ozarks will disperse. Some will go on road trips, others to their families as they await their mom's home-cooking, and still others will go to jobs. However, for close to thirty students, Spring Break will be spent together as they head south to serve.

Every year, Christian Ministries sends students on mission trips throughout the nation. This year two mission teams will head to Memphis and New Orleans over Spring Break. The New Orleans team will work with Touch Global, a relief agency of the Evangelical Free Church of America, to help with reconstruction efforts in the city post Hurricane Katrina. They will work in a variety of locations throughout the city doing everything from evangelism to working in soup kitchens. The Memphis team will work with Service Over Self, a Christian ministry in Memphis, to serve depressed areas of the city by sharing Christ's love through both their words and actions. Under their leadership, we will use home repairs as a vehicle for discipleship and evangelism.

Please pray for the students and staff participating in these trips.
